A FAMILY AFFAIR

LITERACY RESOURCE PACKET

It is difficult to define the limits of people with disabilities, as we continue to discover extraordinary abilities within them. While people who have developmental disabilities face a more challenging future than most, they can still enjoy a full and active life. What the need most is encouragement, understanding and the willingness of others to help them maximize their opportunities for becoming part of their community.

FRY INSTANT GRADED WORD LISTS

Fry Instant Word Lists

Edward B. Fry, Professor Emeritus of Rutgers University, has compiled a list of the most common words in English. The purpose of the list is to help in the improvement of reading instruction. The first one hundred words make up half of all written material, and the first three hundred words comprise 65 percent of all written material. Students in grades 1-4 work on these words to build their sight vocabulary.

- First Grade 1-100
- Second Grade 1-200
- Third Grade 1-400
- Fourth Grade 1-600

BASIC COMPUTER TERMS

Basic Computer Terms

Bookmarks - A filing system built into the browser that allows the user to keep a list of favorite web sites.

Browser (Netscape Navigator or Internet Explorer) - software program that allows you to explore, view and hear content on the WWW. Web browsers allow you to easily access and view pictures, movies, text, animation and sound.

CD-ROMS - Like a floppy drive, only not floppy.... it's more rigid. A cd-rom can contain a lot more information than a floppy disk.

CD-ROM Drive The part of the computer where cd-roms are inserted.

Desktop - The backdrop that all other windows are displayed on. On it are icons which represent files. These files can be folders, documents, graphics, programs, shortcuts or printers. The two most common icons are My Computer, and Recycle Bin.

My Computer - An icon found on the Desktop which allows you to view files easily.

Recycle Bin - Where your deleted items end up.

Start Button - Found in lower left corner of the screen. The Start Button can be used to find programs or files, get help, change settings, etc.

Floppy Disk - Small disk that holds information. The most common size is 3.5".

Floppy Drive - The part of the computer where floppy disks are inserted (also referred to as the "A" Drive).

Hard Drive - Where computer information and programs are stored inside a computer. The hard drive is also referred to as the "C" or "D" Drive.

Hardware - Term used for the physical components of a computer.

HomePage - 1) What you see when you first open your web browser;
2) The first document of a web site

Internet - Millions of interconnected computers worldwide that allow people to find and use information and communicate with others.

Internet Service Provider (ISP) - A company that provides Internet access. Popular local providers are AOL and Earthlink, Stratos and CoreComm.

Keyboard - What you type on.

Monitor - The screen you look at... looks like a TV.

Mouse - Device used to move the pointer around on the screen

Pointer - The arrow that moves around on the screen. When the arrow passes over a link, it changes to a hand. If you click on the link, you will see an hourglass which means the data is being sent to your computer.

Point - Roll the mouse so that the tip of the pointer is touching on a specific area or command.

Click - Press the mouse button once

Double-Click - Press the mouse button twice in rapid succession

Click and Drag - Point to an object, click and hold the left mouse button, and then move (drag) the object to another location.

Windows 95, 98, or NT - An operating system, or program, that makes computers easier to use. Windows uses graphic images, or icons, in place of complicated commands. This allows you to run programs and perform tasks by "clicking" on the icons.

World Wide Web (WWW) - One part of the Internet... it contains graphics and links (to jump from one page to another)

Card Activities

to

Reinforce Reading Skills

The card games that follow can be adapted to reinforce many reading skills. Use the word lists to help find appropriate words or sounds for making games to teach a particular reading skill.

Concentration

Materials:

Pair Cards. Make as many pairs as you want.

Example Skill:

Student can match contraction with uncontracted word form.

Object:

To get the most cards by drawing pairs.

Rules:

- Use any number of cards.
- Spread them face down in rows.
- Player 1: Draws 2 cards; turns them over so everyone can see what he drew. If he has drawn a pair (contraction and uncontracted form, 2 words alike, 2 opposite words, etc.) he lays them face down in front of himself. If he did not draw a pair, he makes sure everyone can see what he drew and then returns the cards to the same spot. He continues drawing as long as the 2 he draws form a pair.
- Player 2: Begins when Player 1 fails to draw a pair. Follows the same rules as above.

Students with a good memory (who have been concentrating) will remember what cards were turned up and where they laid down.

Fish

Materials:

Deck of cards made up of 3 card sets with the same word or with a common element. Make up as many sets as you want.

Example Skill:

Student reads words containing vowel digraphs.

Object:

To make 'books' by finding 3 card of the same word or with a common element.

Rules:

- Deal five cards to each player
- Put the rest of the cards in the middle, face down (the 'fish' pile).
- Player 1: Asks, 'Do you have a word with 'av' in it?'
- Player 2: Gives one or two cards with that sound if he has them in his hand. If he doesn't have that word card, he says, 'Go fish.'
- Player 1: Asks for another card if he got one the first time, and keeps asking until Player 2 says, 'Go fish.'
- Player 1: Takes a card from the 'fish pile' and
- Player 2 begins asking.
- When a player gets three of a kind, he read the words and lays the set down in front on him.

Password

Materials:

Pile of vocabulary words, or words that have antonyms, or words on which rhymes can be built.

Players:

The game is best played in 2 teams, each team having 2 players.

Object:

To be part of the team who guessed the most words in a certain period of time.

Rules:

- One member of the team has the pile of card face down in front of him.
- When the clock starts, he picks up the top card, reads it to HIMSELF, and gives his teammate another word, which is a clue to the word in his hand. The teammate has one guess; first member of the team gives him a second clue.
- The first member of the team keeps supplying clue words until his teammate finally gets the word right. He then begins with a new word, which he picks up, etc., until his time runs out.
- The other team of two goes through the same process in the same amount of time.
- The team, which guesses the most words, wins.

 If 'antonym password' is being played, the first team member is supplying an antonym, to the word in his hand, and his teammate must guess from that.

 If 'rhyming password' is being played, the first team member supplies a word that rhymes with the one he picked up.

Rummy

Materials:

Deck of cards made up of paired cards, plus one 'Old Maid' card.

Example Skill:

Student can select antonyms or homonyms, or contractions

Object:

To get rid of all your cards by making word pairs. Also, to get rid of the Old Maid card.

Rules:

- Deal out all your cards. One player will have one card more than the others because he will have the Old Maid card. (You can make up a name other than Old Maid card.)
- Players look at their hands. If they have any pairs, they lay the 2 cards down in front of them.
- Player 1: Draws a card from the hand of another player. If he can make a word pair, he names it and lays it down; then can draw another card. If he cannot make another word pair, it is Player 2's turn.
- Player 2: Draws a card from the hand of another player and tries to make a word pair.
- Playing continues until one person is left holding the Old Maid card.
- The game ends when one player has laid down all the cards in his hand. To go out, the player must have a card to place in the discard pile.
- Each player counts the cards on the table in front of him. The person with the most cards wins.

Slap Jack

Materials:

Deck of cards with assorted words needing reinforcement for players. One word or word family should reappear several times; these cards are the 'jacks'.

Object:

To get the most cards by drawing pairs.

Rules:

- Deal out all the cards. Each player keeps his cards in a pile; face down, in front of him, without looking at them.
- One player flips over his top card. Then the other player flips his top card over, placing it on top of his opponent to make one pile.
- If none of the 'Jacks' appear, another round is played, with each player putting out one card in turn.
- When one of the 'Jacks' appear, another round is played, with each player putting out one card in turn.
- When one of the 'Jacks' does come up, both players try to be the first to cover the card with their hands by slapping it.
- Whoever covers the 'Jacks' first, gets all the cards played previously, and the game starts again.

Advance Reading Skills

Reading Readiness Activities

Same or Different Words

Say two words and have the student indicate if the two words are the same or different. These words can be dictated to the student or recorded on a cassette.

Rhyming Picture Words

Make a set of about 25 picture cards for a rhyming game. Cut pictures from magazines and paste them on construction paper. There should be about eight to ten sets of rhyming words and also words that do not rhyme with any other cards in the deck.

Sample sets of words:

mat, hat, bat, cat

man, pan

mouse, house

pail, tail, whale

bug, rug

Analogies

Have the student listen to and complete items such as these:

Pickles are sour; candy is _____

An airplane is fast; a bike is _____

The sky is above; the ground is _____

Winter is cold; summer is _____

Descriptive Word Game

Hold up familiar objects to elicit descriptive words such as round, heavy, shiny, rough, soft, etc. Show the objects and ask: 'What is this?' 'What shape is it?' 'How does it feel?'

Retelling a Story

After listening to a story, encourage the student to retell it and keep the details in their correct sequence. You could also record their version of the story and then play it back to compare their version to the original.

Story Comprehension

After listening to a story that has been read, check comprehension by asking when, where, why, what, who questions.

Basic Reading Skills

Word Bank

Use a shoebox or some other container to keep all words that the student has mastered. Print each word the student has learned on index card that has been cut in half. The words that have been mastered can also be used to make sentences.

Sight Word Checkers

Sight word checker follows the standard Checker rules, except that a student may not land his checkers in any square he cannot read. Print the words on the board facing both ways, so that neither player has to read upside down.

A simplified version of Sight Word Checkers uses a smaller board. The object is simply to get one's pieces to the other side, by moving them into squares correctly read.

Sight Word Bingo

Sight Word Bingo is played just like regular Bingo except that there are words instead of numerals on the cards. If you don't want to make your own Bingo cards. The Dolch Basic Sight Word List can be used for this game.

Making Contractions

Write contractions on one set of index cards, and their expansion. Match the contractions with the corrected expansion.

Playing Author

Have student dictate a story or write a story for others to read. A book cover could be made to illustrate their work.

Phrase Cards

Reading phrase cards helps in making reading more fluent. Short easy phrases should be used at first. When these phrases present no difficulty and can be read instantly at sight, longer and more complicated phrases should be introduced. A number of phrase cards could be put together to construct a story using words from the Word Bank.

Advance Reading Skills

Comic Sequence

Cut a cartoon strip from the newspapers or a comic book. Cut each frame and mount it on construction paper. The task for the student is to place the frames in correct sequence so they tell a story. The backs of the cards can be numbered in order to make the activity self-checking. Each story sequence can be stored in its own envelope.

Newspaper Information

Give the student a copy of the local newspaper and a problem to solve, the solution can be found in the newspaper. The suggestions for problems:

1. What movie do you want to see?
2. Who is starring in it?
3. Where is the theater?
4. What time does the movie start?
5. How much are the movie tickets?
6. How long is the movie?

Recipe Directions

Simple recipes are great for following-directions activities.

In addition:

Reading skills can be reinforced by using maps, using the World Wide Web, reading menus, bus routes, movie schedules, advertisements, making grocery list or To Do Lists, locating names and numbers in the telephone directory.

Strategies

Visual Learners, Auditory Learners, Kinesthetic Learners

The visual learner learns best through seeing. His learning is aided by visuals of any kind.

To aid the visual learner:

- write out all directions;
- teach concepts through drawings, maps, charts, films, etc. whenever possible;
- demonstrate and provide materials for the student to manipulate; have things for the student to see as well;
- illustrate what you are saying with printed words, drawings and pictures;
- encourage the student to visualize the words that he hears;
- introduce the lesson by presenting key points, and at the end summarize, have him summarize, or both;
- use flash cards to learn information.

The auditory learner is the student who learns best through what he hears. His learning is aided by hearing, rather than reading about concepts. The student needs to say information in order to remember it.

To aid the auditory learner:

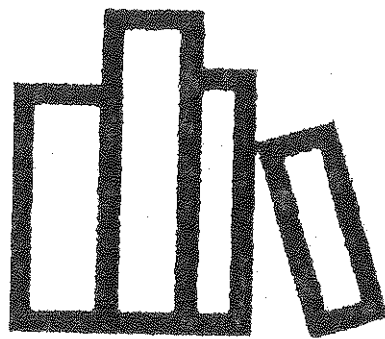

- give information orally whenever possible;
- discuss student's ideas and plans to help him focus, clarify his thinking and remember what he has read;
- have student read orally to improve comprehension;
- make audio tapes of books so the student can listen and read along;
- provide tapes or other auditory means for the student to get information
- keep assignments short;
- listen carefully and ask probing questions to get at the understanding of the auditory learner with weak verbal skills;

The kinesthetic learner is the 'hands on' learner whose sense of touch, muscles, and body movements provide information. The hands and body need to get involved in learning.

To aid the kinesthetic learner:

- use manipulative, such as plastic letter to build words
- have student clap once for each unit of sound when teaching hem to identify syllables;
- provide opportunities for 'hands on' activities
